

Operation Round Up Community Grants

The giving members of South Plains Electric Cooperative make Operation Round Up possible. The money received provides local organizations with financial support so they can make a difference in our community.

To learn more, visit SPEC.coop/operationroundup.

The Rio Blanco Heritage Foundation supported the Crosby County Pioneer Memorial Museum in effort to renovate the Native American Wing of the museum. With their community grant, they were able to restore existing cases, purchase new ones and create a research area within the museum.

The Well at Petersburg provides for rural communities around the South Plains in numerous ways. They used their grant to start a rural community food pantry, provide holiday meals for community members and donate clothing to those in need. They also built a laundry facility for students to use.

Operation Round Up Community Grants

Special Olympics used their community grant to purchase a bocce ball court for use in the South Plains area. With this purchase, Special Olympics is able to offer more opportunities for athletes to remain healthy and connected to the community.

The Edge: A Company of Fine Artists used their community grant to purchase Chromebooks, digital drawing tablets, wireless microphones and speakers. All of these will be used to enhance the future of The Edge's Acting Out Program for youth on the South Plains.

Operation Round Up Board Member Retires

Tracey Gregory has been an Operation Round Up board member for six years. She has served our board and community well by scoring applications and helping allocate funds to numerous organizations throughout the years. Tracey's service, dedication and deep care for our community is truly inspiring.

Thank you, Tracey!